CHƯƠNG 184: CUỘC ĐO SỨC THỰC THỤ

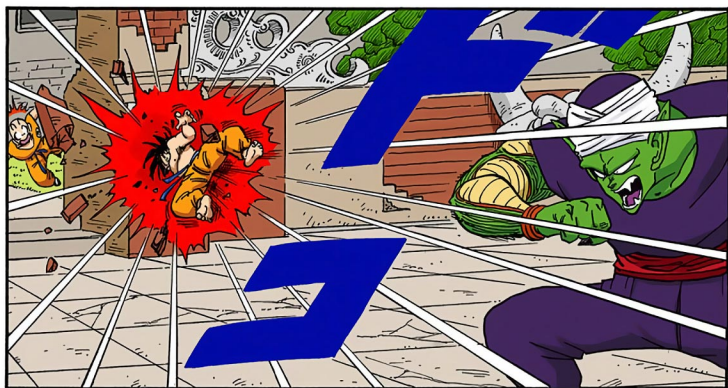

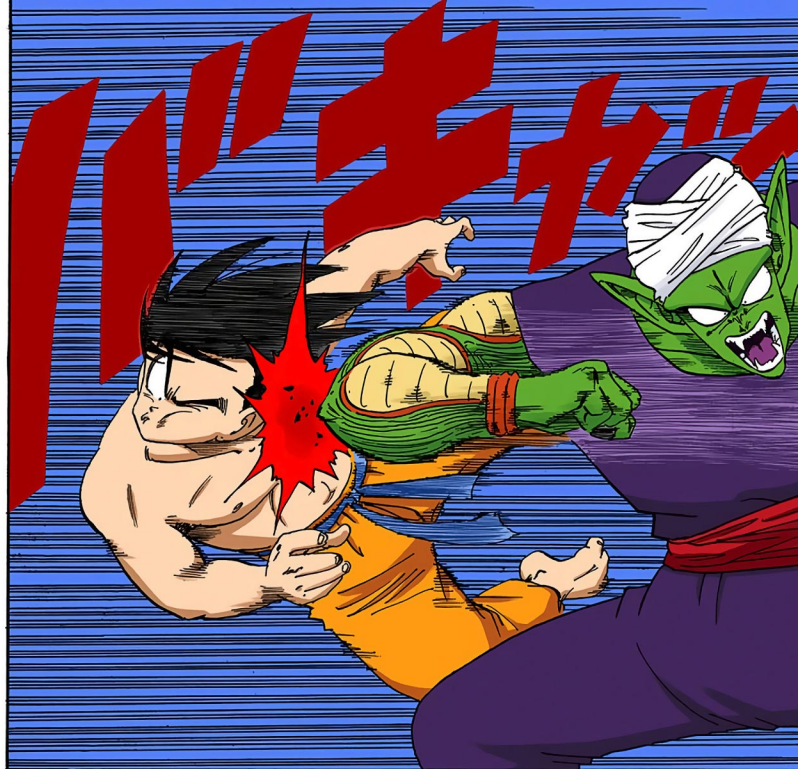

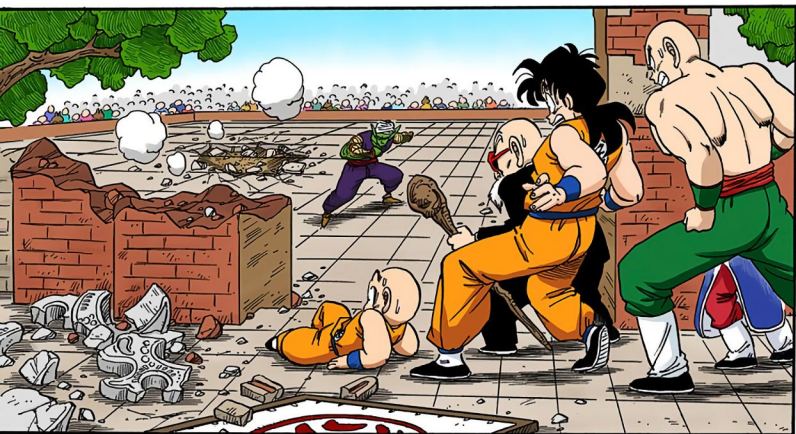

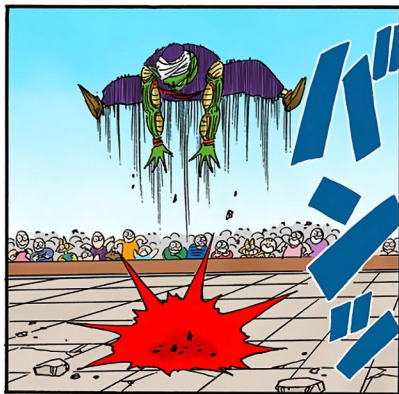

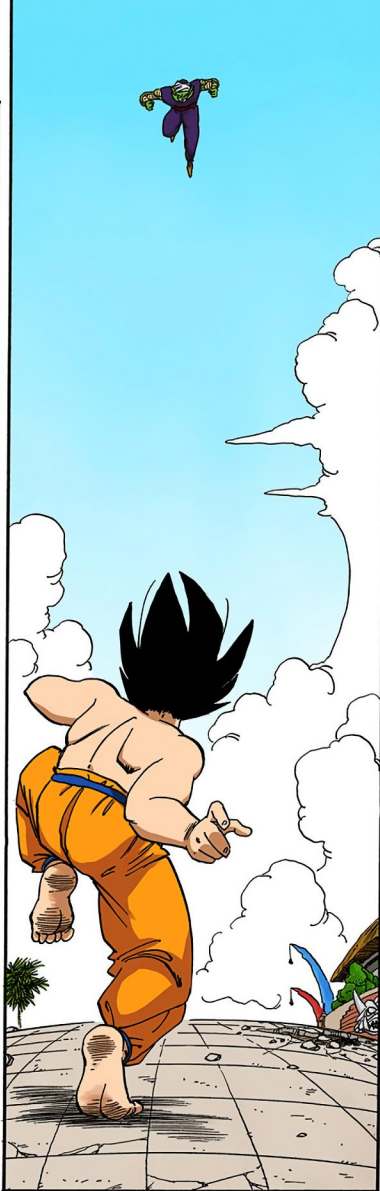

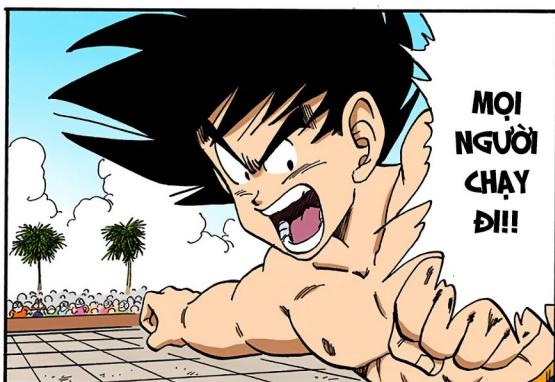

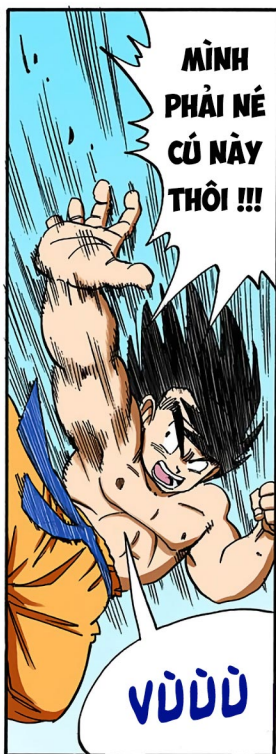

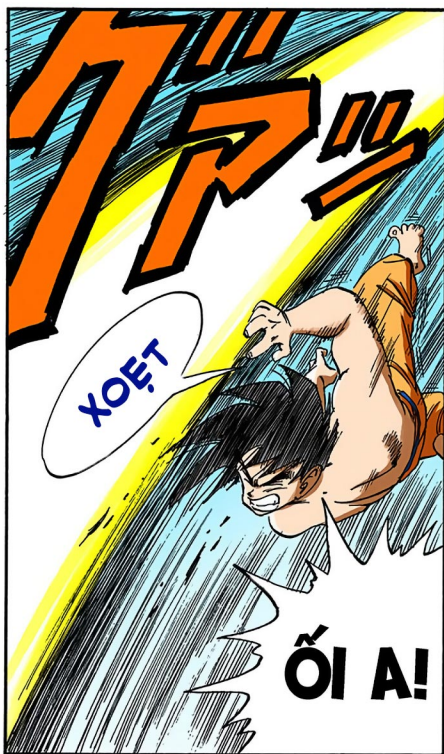

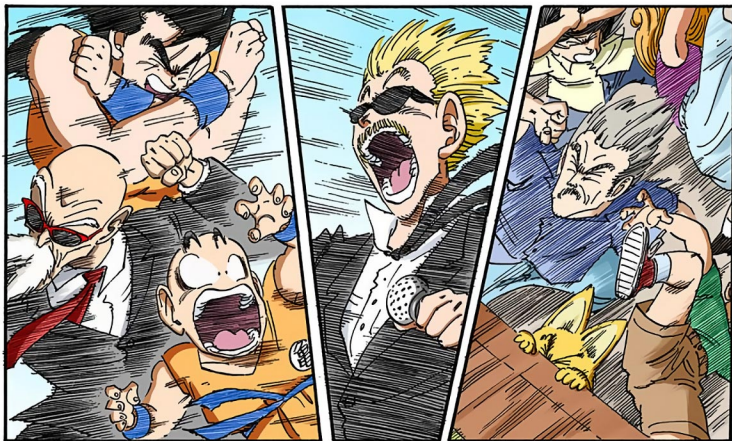

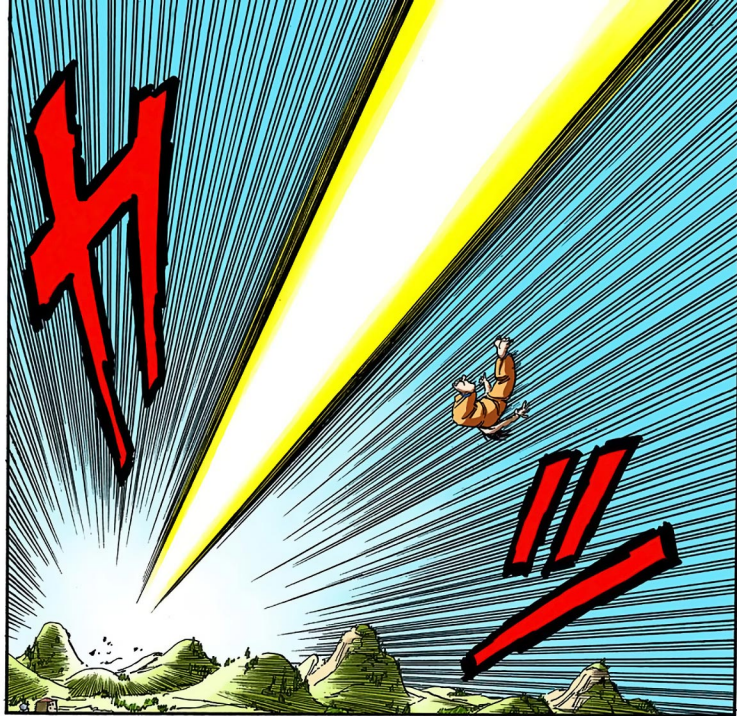

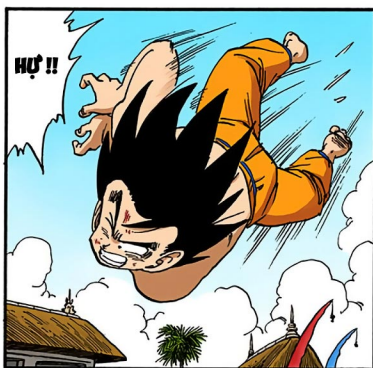

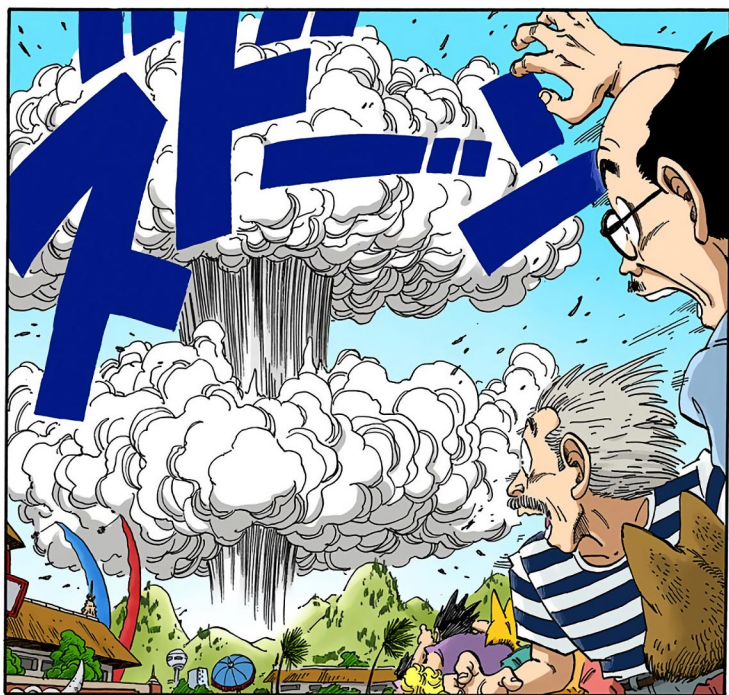

A comic panel showing Piccolo falling backwards. He is wearing his signature purple gi and has a white bandage on his forehead. His expression is one of anger or determination, with his mouth open. The background is filled with yellow and black diagonal motion lines, suggesting a fast fall. A large, thick red 'X' is drawn over the top left portion of the panel. In the bottom right corner, there are three red rectangular shapes, possibly representing a torn piece of paper or a graphic element.

A close-up of Krillin's face. He has a wide-eyed, shouting expression with his mouth open, showing his teeth. His eyebrows are thick and arched, and there are small droplets of sweat or sweat drops on his forehead. He is wearing his signature orange gi. The background consists of blue horizontal lines, suggesting motion or a specific environment.
